Human resources, finance, marketing, information technology, customer service

The Gold Coast City Council is working hard to build a vibrant city, maintain our enviable Gold Coast lifestyle and ensure our city will be thriving, sustainable and attractive into the future.

Ensuring our business and internal services are prepared to support the delivery of our services and goods is vital to the organisation's optimal performance. As the second largest local authority in Australia, our people do this by becoming inhouse content experts whose focus is to proactively seek ways to support, provide and enhance business decisions across Council.

Opportunities exist to work in teams in different disciplines including:

- finance
- legal
- human resources
- marketing
- information technology and communication
- customer service
- risk management

With an employee workforce of just over 3,000 people, our employees provide a high level of service both internally and to the community to ensure value for money for city residents.

With such a diverse range of jobs across Council, the opportunities are as plentiful as the types of jobs we have on offer.
