

Luminary lectures at the library

Gold Coast Libraries offers a diverse and exciting range of free programs and events for all interests and ages. There is something for everyone.

Events calendar

'Luminary lectures at the library' is a lecture series presented by academics across a range of interesting fields, that aims to connect our wider Gold Coast community with cutting edge research and information from the worlds of science and academia.

Our free, monthly lectures and discussions are facilitated by academics and experts in their fields, and cover a diverse range of topics from the sciences, technology, health sciences, engineering and more.

Come along, learn and connect with those who share similar interests and enjoy a lecture in a relaxed library environment. Whether you are a student, or just have a general interest in the topic, there will be something for everyone.

Upcoming events

Gold Coast Libraries have made the decision to suspend all public library programs, events and activities until further notice as a precautionary response to the Novel coronavirus (COVID-19).

Our 'Luminary Lectures at the Library' will resume again later in the year, and we are working to reschedule the events that will not be going ahead over the next couple of months.

In the meantime, stay connected to find out about upcoming lectures and our interesting range of topics lined up for 2020!
